overseas were contracted for yesterday by the Quartermaster Corps. Manufacturers in this and other cities were given orders for making more than 1,000,000. They are the first garments of the kind to be contracted for and were designed by experts connected with the corps. A new departure in connection with the contracts is that the Government is supplying everything to the manufacturers with the exception of the sewings. The contracts range from $1.80 to $1.90 the Government paid $1.81 for similar work, and it cost the manufacturers between 30 and 40 cents for trimmings for each coat. Under present stipulations it is expected the garments will be better manufacturers will The concerns that got the contracts and the quantities alloted were:

Shirt Manufacturers Saved by Army Orders

Manufacturers of men's shirts have not felt any ill effects from the loss of patrons through the draft, according to reports from well informed sources. Though the demand for shirts for civilians has decreased, the loss of business in this direction has been offset by manufacturers devoting much of their effort to supplying men in the army.

A greatly increased demand for what is known as the "work shirt" is noted, the trade being principally with men employed in munitions plants, shipyards and factories.

Yarn Husiness Slow.

Special Despatch to Tax Sus.

Philashilphia, Oct. 25.—Present prices of yarns are not conducive to business, and trading has been duil during the week. Uncertain conditions as to future needs are also a hindrance to business. Buying, therefore, has been resteicted and has only been in volume enough to cover orders on their books.

The only large quantities bought have been taken by manufacturers engaged.
